

Consortium for Innovative Environments in Learning

www.cielearn.org

Call for proposals

Fall 2010 Annual Meeting

Theme:           Sustaining Innovation
Date:             October 22-24, 2010
Location:        New College of Florida
Sarasota, Florida

Deadline for submission: *July 19, 2010

In celebration of the 50th anniversary of New College of Florida, CIEL invites you to submit proposals for workshops or presentations that inform how innovative colleges and universities sustain, renew and create innovative environments in learning.

- What defines innovation in 2010?
- Are the innovative practices established at the founding of a college still innovative?
- How do we create space and support for the next wave of innovation?
- How do innovations by individual administrators, faculty and staff spread to a wider group?
- What is the role of institutional leadership in creating the climate for innovation?
- Which curricular content areas are leaders in innovation, and which are overdue for innovation?
- What is the influence of technology on innovative practices?
- How does one overcome resistance to innovation?

Protecting and invigorating progressive educational practices is manifested in all areas of an institution. CIEL invites proposals from Administration, Faculty, Staff, or Students to share through a poster presentation, panel discussion, workshop or facilitated discussion ways we can foster and sustain our unique missions.

Submit a proposal – by June 15, 2010 to Gret Antilla at
gantilla@prescott.edu

Guidelines for submission:

1. Title, topic and names of presenters
2. Format (poster, workshop, discussion, panel, academic paper, collaborative curricular project...)
3. Description: 150 words
4. Outcomes of presentation (develop creative collaboration, share best practices, demonstrate assessment strategies, etc.)
5. Amount of time needed (90 minute workshop; 50 minute discussion, etc.)

Refer questions to:
Gret Antilla
Executive Director

gantilla@prescott.edu